TAKE ISLANDS AT MOUTH OF THE GULF OF RIGA

German Troops Occupy Oesel
and Dago Islands

Russians Have Extensive Aviation
Losses on Oesel Isle—German
Move May Be Forerunner of a Push for Petrograd.

Germany's most striking military move since the attack which resulted in the capture of Riga was started Friday on this same Russian front when German troops were landed on Oesel and Dago islands at the mouth of the Gulf of Riga. Heavy units of the main German battle fleet were brought up to assist in this operation, some of the draughts appearing off the coast and covering the landing with their guns, silencing the Russian shore batteries. The Russian forces hampered the process in every way possible, but considerable numbers of the Germans appear to have obtained a footing on the northwestern coast of Oesel island and on the southern shores of Dago island. On Oesel island, where the Russians have extensive aviation bases and other military establishments, the garrison engaged the invaders.

Petrograd alludes to the German movement as a stubborn effort to clear the entrance of the Gulf of Riga near the Courland maintained. Whether it is much more than this, possibly the forerunner of an ambitious push for Petrograd along the railway line up the gulf of Finland coast, can hardly be determined by the moves made so far.

The imminence of the early Russian winter season lends color to the assumption that even if the German high command is taking these steps as a preliminary to a march on Petrograd it will hardly essay the campaign this year. It is pointed out, however, that the demoralized state of the Russian armies might make the operation a comparative short and easy one now in comparison with the task a German army headed for Petrograd would have to face next spring if the Russian government plans for a regeneration of the army are carried through.

A more conservative view seems to be that the German effort is aimed at gaining complete control of the Gulf of Riga, so as to realize to the full, the advantage gained last month by the capture of the city of Riga. In any event, however, the move marks a notable continuation of the German northward creep along the Baltic coast. This has given them first of all Courland, then a slice of Livonia and now has planted them in an advantageous position off the coast of Estonia, where they will constitute a constant threat to the right flank of the whole Russian front, now somewhat loosely anchored on the shores of the Gulf of Riga, some distance to the southwest.

The heavy rain in Flanders has turned the plains into such a sea of mud that neither of the hostile armies seems able to move. Whether the weather and the condition of the ground were the sole reasons which impelled the Germans to refrain from meeting the British advance with speedy counter-attacks, however, is considered doubtful in view of the many corroborative reports of the lowered state of the German army morale.

Field Marshal Haig in any event, was left on the night of his advance in undisputed possession of the valuable ground won, which the German statement admits was three quarters of a mile in depth at points.

On the French front the German content themselves with bombardments in the Verdun region where there has been heavy infantry fighting recently, turning their main attention to the Alsace front and launching a series of attacks along the eastern end of the Chemin des Dames, between Hurbitz and Chevreux. The effort was a violent one but was checked by the French. The German crown prince's men got into the French lines at only one point and were speedily ejected from this advanced position.

TAFT DELIVERS SPEECH IN CHICAGO

Attacks Forces Working for a Premature Peace

Former President Speaks Under Auspices of Liberty Loan Committee—Denounces Attitude Taken by Senator La Follette.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Forces, both in and out of congress working for a premature peace, were attacked by William H. Taft, president of the League to Enforce Peace, in a speech delivered here tonight under the auspices of the Liberty loan committee.

"While we may sympathize with the sorrowful feelings of our loyal fellow citizens of German antecedents," said Mr. Taft, "how detestable is the attitude of those with no such traditional and family ties, who because of the supposed pro-German sympathies of their constituents conduct themselves in both house of congress and in newspaper columns so as to delay and obstruct as far as possible our government in its conduct of the war against Germany. It may be that they are able, under our careful guarding of individual rights of free speech to escape penalties for what is in spirit treason, but let us hope that they will remain emboldened forever in the amber of the just contempt of the American people."

"Senator La Follette," said Mr. Taft, speaking of Germany's unrestricted submarine warfare, "says that while our citizens had the right to go upon commercial vessels carrying supplies to the allies, it was only a technical right, and one that we might well have rather than go to war. Was the right of those innocent 114 American men, women and children sent to their death without warning on the Lusitania, to life and safety only a technical right? It shocks one's deepest feelings to think that a senator in the congress of the United States could use words of such an import."

"Those citizens had a right to be where they were and a right to life and safety. Senator La Follette ignores the humiliation, the dishonor and the lasting injury to our national influence of yielding the rights of our citizens, or of withholding protection from them in the pursuit of their lawful trades on the high sea at the dictation of a military power like Germany because of a fear of that power."

Mr. Taft described the rise of German militarism and declared that "not until the German military caste is defeated," he said, "and not until the emperor at the head of that caste is brought to his knees by force, will imperial Germany people be aware of the hideous error in their policy."

In his appeal for the support of the Liberty loan, Mr. Taft said:

"Our country is fighting for our life as an independent nation and for the independence of other nations. And now we are called upon to give it the means of fighting this war thru. This Liberty loan does not ask for a real sacrifice from anybody. It asks the wage earners, the men on salary, the men of moderate means, the man of wealth to save money and to take from his savings which he has invested and invest them in a bond of the government."

VON TIRPITZ SAYS GERMANY WILL WIN

Amsterdam Oct. 13.—Admiral Von Tirpitz, former minister of the German imperial navy interviewed by Brunswick Landes Zeitung is quoted as saying:

"We can continue confidently to expect a final triumph over England as long as we continue to sink vessels faster than she constructs them. A submarine war success cannot be expected immediately, however, but if we pursue our aims firmly we shall find after some months that our position for negotiations with England will be quite different."

"England desires mediation now while her position is comparatively favorable. The decisive factors are the shipping losses suffered by the Entente and by neutrals who expose themselves to our U-boat war."

No definite time can be fixed for our success. Economically and as regards raw materials, our position today is stronger than that of France or Italy. How far England will be able to make her supplies last can not be predicted."

SPECTACULAR FIRE ON NEW YORK WATER FRONT

Property Loss is Estimated at $1,200,000

Nearly 700,000 Bushels of Grain
Intended for Export Are Destroyed—Nature of Explosion
Warrants Suspicion of "Bomb Planter."

New York, Oct. 13.—Reports of incendiarism in connection with a disastrous water front fire which destroyed an elevator and nearly 700,000 bushels of grain in Brooklyn today were revived tonight when fire Chief Kenton issued a statement saying the cause of the blaze would be rigidly investigated. The property loss was estimated at more than $1,200,000.

"There have been fifty-six water front fires in New York City lately and it is improbable that all resulted from natural causes," Chief Kenton said.

The grain consumed today was intended for export according to officials of the New York Dock Company owners of the elevator.

Superintendent Tomlins in charge of the elevator said the nature of this explosion warranted the suspicion of a bomb "planter" being responsible.

Fire Marshal Brophy said he believed an explosion of "grain dust" had caused the fire.

Every fire boat in the city and every available piece of apparatus was called into service. Chief Kenton said the fire was the most difficult he had fought since that which destroyed the Equitable Life Insurance Building in this city January 9, 1912. Two of the towers are regarded as totally lost and firemen were making efforts tonight to prevent the flames from entering the third. The fire was one of the most spectacular in the history of the New York water front.

FIFTH REGIMENT AFFAIRS

A recent issue of the Houston Chronicle sent to Mayor Rodgers by his son, Sergeant Jay Rodgers, gives a lengthy account of the order to assign the companies of the 5th Infantry to the machine gun battalions and the companies of the 7th Infantry to the trains. According to this newspaper, officers and men of the 7th Infantry are well pleased with the order and it is intimated too that a majority of the men and officers in the 5th are satisfied with the new line of work.

The paper then goes on to say: "The 5th Infantry, commanded by Col. Frank S. Wood, will be converted into a machine gun company. Three battalions will be formed. One battalion will be composed of four companies with a total of 728 men or 182 men each. Two battalions will be composed of three companies each, of about an equal number to the company, or a total of 1100 men, giving the three battalions a total strength of 1828 men."

"One question remains unsettled in connection with the 5th. It involves the disposition of the commanding officer, Col. Wood. But as there are only two colonels in the 5th brigade at present it is thought this matter will adjust itself with little difficulty."

DR. COLE RETURNS FROM NORTHERN TRIP

The session at Minneapolis lasted three days. There were speakers present from all over this country and some from Canada. One of the principal subjects of discussion was the treatment of the tubercular soldier. This will be one of the big problems which the medical men of the United States will have to face in a short time and one which will require a great deal of time and study. Several interesting addresses on this and allied topics were heard by Dr. Cole at the conference. The trip as a whole proved one of much interest.

LOCAL ELEVATOR PRICES

Asked about the status of the grain business in Morgan county elevators yesterday, Thomas Cain said the elevator at Arnold and others in which he is interested, are now paying $2 for wheat. He explained that this price allowed the elevator management a profit of only about 5 cents a bushel. The government rules as to grade and moisture are very strict and in almost every instance where an elevator man has asked for a re-inspection by the federal government the result has been less satisfactory than the grading given at the first inspection. Practically no old corn is now moving altho a price of $2.17 is offered. There is very little old corn in the country now and it will not be many weeks until new corn is available. Elevators are offering $1.05 for No. 4 corn delivered in December.

PIERSOL SUBJECTED TO GRILLING EXAMINATION

Defendant Successfully Holds to His Story

Defense in Trial of Man Accused of Kidnapping Baby Keets Rests Its Case—Renders Account of What He Claims Were His Actions May 30th.

Marshfield, Mo., Oct. 13.—The defense in the trial of Claude Piersol, charged with abducting Lloyd Keet, rested its case today after the defendant had successfully held to his story thru a grilling examination. The prosecution in rebuttal finished late today. Court adjourned until Monday, when the arguments will be heard.

Piersol maintained that he had absolutely nothing to do with kidnapping Lloyd Keet nor plots to abduct any other person. He steadfastly clung to the denial that he wrote the so-called ransom letters and rendered an account of what he claimed were his actions thruout the day and night of May 30.

In explaining discrepancies between his testimony of today and statements he made to Springfield and St. Louis authorities, Piersol claimed he had been coerced to talking while in the various jails. He declared a federal officer from Kansas City while questioning him at Springfield threatened to club him and have him shot as a spy. While in the St. Louis holdover he was awakened many times at night and questioned, he said, adding that for 43 nights he slept on a plain board.

In rebuttal the prosecution called Judge Farrington and Johnson of Springfield, who related the original stories Piersol had told them of being commissioned a captain by Germany.

Judge Johnson testified that on one occasion a federal detective did treat Piersol a "bit rough." Chief of Detective Allender of St. Louis also called in rebuttal testified that prisoners in the St. Louis holdover had nothing to sleep on but a board.

Hitherto all passenger service down the Pacific side of South America has been under flags other than the American.

The Santa Ana with 5,700 tonnage, will have accommodations for 100 first class passengers.

TARDINESS OF COUNTRY CAUSES DEEP CONCERN

Tremendous Impetus Must Be Given Liberty Loan Campaign

Washington Officials Promise That
New Factor, Calculated to Hearten
the Workers Will Be Introduced Into Campaign at Once.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The tardiness of the country in responding to the second liberty loan is causing deep concern to officials here.

President Wilson and his cabinet are watching the campaign with great interest. With half the campaign gone treasury officials estimated tonight that not more than $600,000,000 had been described and they considered this estimate liberal. It has become apparent to officials that a new and tremendous impetus must be given to the campaign if the subscription is to approximate the $5,000,000,000 hoped for.

The whole weight of the administration is to be thrown into the balance for the rest of the campaign and a drive of dimension approached heretofore is to be made during the two weeks that remain before the closing of the subscription books. A new factor, calculated to hearten the host of workers and to galvanize the country into a realization that the most strenuous efforts must be made if the big drive is to be consummated successfully, will be introduced into the campaign probably within twenty-four hours.

Notwithstanding the splendid reception given Secretary McAdoo in the west, the efforts of thousands of workers, and the most highly organized publicity campaign ever known in the country, the daily average of subscriptions has fallen far below what officials have hoped for. The time has come officials feel when the people of the country must be made to realize in a manner that leaves no doubt, that they must subscribe without further delay to the full limit of their means.

From President Wilson down officials are understood to be united in this belief. The campaign must be given new impetus at once, it is felt and steps to give the impetus will be taken without delay. The $600,000,000 estimate of the treasury taken into condition at the optimistic estimates from the various reserve districts and that sum is only 12 per cent of the $5,000,000,000 desired.

This would leave $4,400,000,000 to be raised within the next 12 working days, an average of $367,000,000 a day if the $5,000,000,000 goal is to be attained and $2,400,000,000 an average of $200,000,000 a day if only the minimum of $3,000,000,000 is subscribed.

PRESENT EVIDENCE OF NATION-WIDE PLOT

Attorney General Brundage
After Milk Producers

Documents in Possession of Attorney
General are of More Conclusive Nature than Those Collected by State's Attorney Hoynes of Chicago

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Evidence to prove a nationwide plot by milk producers to raise the price of that commodity was presented to federal authorities here today by Attorney General Brundage of Illinois. Ramifications of this alleged conspiracy as indicated in Mr. Brundage's evidence included the raising of a fund of $5,000 to place a man friendly to the Dairymen's International League on the Hoover commission formed to fix a just price for milk. This was said to be done in Utica, N. Y., last July. The evidence also showed an effort on the part of the dairymen to see President Wilson on the price fixing matter and to boycott dealers in Pittsburgh and elsewhere who refused to enter the price-fixing agreement. The effort to see President Wilson failed.

E. D. Perrigo, assistant to Robert Childs, special United States attorney general, made the demand for the evidence upon Mr. Brundage, after learning that the document in the latter's possession were of a more conclusive nature than any collected by state's attorney Hoynes and other officials who are seeking indictments against local milk producers. Mr. Perrigo asked for the letter which told of the $5,000 appropriation. It was said to have been written by President B. D. Cooper of the Dairymen's International League to W. J. Kittle, secretary of the Milk Producers' association, Chicago district and related to the placing of a "friend" on the Hoover committee. Mr. Kittle is said to have replied that he deemed such action indiscreet and evidently no further move in that direction was taken.

The evidence at hand is said to show that the October price of milk in Chicago—thirteen cents was the aftermath of a meeting of milk producers held here Sept. 21 last. Mr. Kittle's notice to the president of the association regarding this meeting says:

"The months of November, December, January, February and March are to be adjusted later."

Grant and Franklin Pierce—became presidents of the United States and sixty-three reached the grade of generals in the Union and Confederate Armies in the Civil War.

LITTLE MORE EVIDENCE IN PRICE FIXING

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Nicholas Michels, assistant state's attorney, has but little more evidence to present to the grand jury which is to be asked to indict officials and members of the Milk Producers' Association in connection with alleged milk price fixing in Chicago. He asserted today he practically completed his case yesterday when a number of witnesses and a mass of documentary evidence taken in raids on milk organizations' headquarters were presented.

MR. WEMPLE'S ENDORSEMENT.

The Morgan County Central committee yesterday endorsed C. F. Wemple of Waverly as candidate for state senator from this district. It has been many years since Morgan county had a representative in the state senate and if there is anything in "political turns" certainly the support of Sangamon county at this time will be given to a Morgan county man. Mr. Wemple is a business man and banker of broad experience. Personally he represents the very best type of manhood, and as a member of the senate he would be a credit to the district. The Morgan county committee is lending its support to a candidate who should fare well at the hands of the voters.

DAYS FOR SELF-FORGETFULNESS.

An interesting point has been raised in a damage suit on an Indiana court, brought on account of an automobile accident. By this accident a little girl was crippled for life and in the damage suit it is alleged that if the driver had chosen he could have turned his car into a brick wall and avoided the accident. This action would have been certain to result in his own injury or death. It was a question of self-preservation which that automobile driver faced and what he needed was some of the spirit of the soldiers in our armies today, who are making thoughts of self entirely secondary to the call of humanity. It's a day when self sacrifice is demanded and the chances are mighty good for that complainant securing damages if the point raised can be proven.

MR. SCHOFIELD'S CANDIDACY

Fred J. Schofield, Republican candidate for county commissioner, is a young man who has the entire confidence and respect of all those who know him. He lives in Lynnville precinct and that has been his home during almost all of his life. Except for a short period that he was in Jacksonville Mr. Schofield has engaged in farming and has been successful in this business which has steadily become more complex as years have gone by. Mr. Schofield has always taken an active part in community enterprises and is in every way a high class, broad-minded young business man. If selected by a majority of the voters at the election in November he can be counted upon to conscientiously perform the duties of county commissioner with an eye single to the best interests of the whole people.

PRIVATE RIGHTS DISAPPEAR

When one stops to think about it, there are business conditions now and control of public and private affairs which would not have been thought possible in this great republic even a year ago. It was announced in papers yesterday that some state and city authorities have taken radical action to relieve coal shortage. One municipality has purchased coal, which will be sold to small consumers at cost. The government will soon direct the price at which flour and other necessities must be sold over store counters, and will order elevators and milling companies to change certain wasteful methods of operation.

Another hint is given that governmental control of railroads is near at hand, notwithstanding the fact that railroad managements have shown a marvelous increase in efficiency since the railroad board was appointed about a year ago. In handling the liberty loan the services of bankers are practically conscripted and banks are told what portion of the liberty loan they must assume or place. To the government the bankers look like other business men. In Minnesota several banks were understood to have exerted an influence detrimental to the liberty loan and now these banks are speedily to lose certain deposits that would otherwise have been placed in their care.

These are certainly the days when it behooves all citizens to give prompt heed to governmental orders and not to resent any action which in the past they might have deemed interference with their "private rights."

HELPFUL EX-PRESIDENTS.

The old question of what shall we do with our ex-presidents is temporarily at least well out of the way, for ex-President Roosevelt and ex-President Taft are both giving the country splendid service in these days when leadership in right thinking and loyal action is really needed. The president, while he has had occasional acts criticized by Mr. Roosevelt, has been given the strongest kind of support by both these ex-presidents.

In Chicago last night Mr. Taft addressed one of the largest patriotic meetings that has been held since the war began and it is noticeable in connection with Mr. Taft's speaking tour, which has taken him all over the country, that his popularity has been marked. There was a time when kindly words for Mr. Taft were few, mainly because of certain actions of his resulting from poor advisers about him or a certain lack of political good sense.

But in these strenuous days of U. S. history the real broad-mindedness, the real greatness of Mr. Taft have been clearly impressed upon the public mind and he is a much more influential figure today than was true on the day that he left the presidential chair. One point about this ex-president is that he consistently displays that smile which never left him in his presidential days. More and more people are appreciating that smile in these times, as they are coming to an understanding of the reasons that impelled Canadian authorities to pass a resolution calling upon the people to hide their sorrows and to keep before the world a smiling mien.

HOW WOMEN WILL GAIN SUFFRAGE.

The national woman's suffrage organization has called a convention at Washington to begin Dec. 12. The call makes significant reference to the favorable action taken on suffrage in England, the fact that new suffrage rights have been given in a number of provinces in Canada and that equal suffrage laws are well under way in France. These arguments for suffrage are much more potent than banners and picketing or the general methods adopted by some of the Washington suffrage enthusiasts. The way women are assisting in war work, the knitting that they are doing for soldiers, the food that they are saving, their willingness to take up tasks laid down by men who are called into the army service—these are the best arguments for the suffrage of women if women really want the right of the ballot.

It was noticeable yesterday at the Woman's Club luncheon, attended by several hundred women, that a very large number were busy with knitting needles as they listened to the speaker tell of the work which has been outlined for them by the national council of defense. A week ago an appeal was made for Christmas bags for soldiers and yesterday the total of such bags delivered to the Red Cross headquarters was more than 1800. With this kind of patriotic work in progress and with such ready responses when appeal for work is made, the time will come that men will be ashamed not to give suffrage rights to women—if the women want them. Eventually it is going to simply be a question as to whether or not a majority of women really want the ballot.

IS THE KAISER GETTING YOU?

There is money in Columbia, it is fathoms, fathoms deep. But the Kaiser's bound to get it, if we sit here fast asleep. And you know it's rule or ruin where the Kaiser takes a hand. So if you would save your honor, save your home and Freedom's land. Just go way down in your pockets, bring those shiners into view. Else you'll prove to Uncle Sam, that the Kaiser's getting you.

Don't you know the bonds are selling that the people will be free? You can gather up some Fifties, then there'll be enough for me. Have you stopped your ears with cotton that you heed not country's call? Nor the tramp of boys moving that are leaving home and all. While you sit there hoarding money neath the Red and White and Blue. They go forward to the trenches. Is the Kaiser getting you?

You can't hide that you have money, for it shows upon your face. Tho you think you are so tricky we could find it on your place. You may have it stored in barrels, with your diamonds many score. Yet you list not to that knocking that is knocking at your door. And you sit beneath those colors, that are shelter for the true. With your pockets full of money. Is the Kaiser getting you?
S. A. Hughes.

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

BACKING UNCLE SAM.

In times of peace my robes are rent o'er every statesman's blunder; I claim that our government, for someheads, is a wonder. O'er congress then I rip and snort, to wrathful frenzy driven; it is a harmless indoor sport, to which most men are given. It doesn't jar our Uncle Sam, this pessimistic harping; he doesn't care a tinker's jam for criticism carping. In times of peace such talk will go, no voter it disgraces; it serves to let our statesmen know that we are keeping case. But when our country's in a fight, and loyalty's essential, how good men hate the gronchy night, with dirges penitential! Now, I am backing Uncle Sam, tho all the gronches hoot me; and I am silent as a clam. Things don't chance to suit me, I still am talking much, by jings, but talking circumspectly; my Uncle Sam is doing things, and doing them correctly. My Uncle Sam is wise and great and all he does is proper; and I detest the sort of skate who's a disloyal yawper.

It is stated that Germany and Austria use more aluminum for war purposes than all the other belligerents combined. It is known, in fact, that Germany has for some years been collecting and storing the metal for war uses, and the majority of the drinking cups and cans of the German soldier are made of the light metal. The frames of Zeppelins and the fuses for shells are also made from aluminum.

Australia, with a population of 5,000,000, has contributed nearly $350,000,000 to the cost of the war.

The Serio-Comic Tale of a Tiny French Actress

Miss Clark's sweeping triumphs in "Miss George Washington" and "Snow White" are guarantees of what this picture holds in store for you.

The late Molly Elliot Seawell is one of the most successful of recent writers. This is an adaptation of one of her plays.

This is the first time that Marguerite Clark has ever played the role of an actress on the screen.

Sets that are remarkable even for Famous Players productions were built for this picture, among them two French theatres in which Miss Clark appears on the stage.

COMMUNITY RESPONDS TO REQUEST FOR CHRISTMAS BAGS. Jacksonville and vicinity responded nobly to the request for Christmas bags for the soldiers. Friday evening the Red Cross shop had over 600 bags and thought that the number probably would run over 1,000. However, a steady stream started to the shop Saturday and when the final bag was packed Saturday evening 1,800 had been turned in. Others will no doubt come in Monday. The local Red Cross chapter also feels proud of the following letter received relative to a shipment of hospital supplies which recently went from the Red Cross shop. Chicago, October 12, 1917.

Mr. M. F. Dunlap,
Chairman, Morgan County Chapter, American Red Cross, Jacksonville, Ill.

My Dear Mr. Dunlap—
We wish to acknowledge your shipment of hospital supplies and thank you for the same.

The inspection department tells me they are entirely O. K., and we congratulate you and thank you very much.

Very truly yours,
Miss Ina M. Taft,
Superintendent of Hospital Supplies and Garment, Central Division.

Unorganized Farmers.

Every trade, profession, business and industry is organized except the business of farming. Farmers recognize this weakness in the business of farming. Farmers recognize this weakness in the calling and recognize the disadvantages they labor under without organization of any kind. For years there have been movements to organize the farmers but none have been successful in a general way and today there is practically no organization among farmers except that provided by county advisors in these counties supporting farm bureaus. A county agent does organize farmers and in a way the greatest benefit a farm bureau brings in the organization and co-operation of this important business. The work done along these lines by county agents is so valuable that both the United States and the State governments appropriate public funds to establish and maintain farm bureaus in the agricultural districts.

Agriculture and mining are the sources of the wealth of a people and the continued prosperity of a nation, people or community is dependent on the permanency of its agriculture. No matter how important may be the manufactures, commerce and industries centered in the cities, a people's prosperity is founded on the products of the soil. Agriculture has changed from a calling requiring physical strength only to one demanding skill and trained intelligence.

The modern, successful farm is a combination of enterprises and presents numerous economic problems. And yet today there is no organization among farmers except in those counties having farm bureaus. On every hand the farmer deals with organized labor and business as an individual and without any organization to support him. Labor, trade and commerce, the professions and the industries big and little are organized and every individual in these organizations pays his part of the expenses of maintaining his organization and the farmer, if he ever gets an organization must pay for it. It pays the other fellows and will pay the farmer.

Of recent years a new profession has come to us that of a business engineer, an expert who goes into a business and checks it up from bottom to top to locate waste and unprofitable methods. Most big businesses and commercial organizations use these business engineers. They use them because they realize that they may overlook points that an expert will find and because the business engineer brings to them the best methods used by other great business organizations.

A county agent is a farm business engineer and a farm organizer. It is his business to suggest better methods in the production and marketing of farm products and to organize his constituents that they may be able to meet on an equal footing the organized business with which they deal. It is his business to demonstrate new methods and new practices in farming.

Of late years some farmers are covering their winter wheat fields with straw both to protect the wheat from winter's blasts and to preserve the fertility afforded by the straw. Many farmers in our county are considering the matter of acquiring straw spreaders and searching for information as to the time of spreading the straw and the results from straw spreading. If the county had a county agent, he would organize a demonstration of straw spreaders, so that those interested could see the machines in operation and would be able to furnish reliable data as to when to spread and the results of spreading.

The farmer is at last coming into his own. His problems in the future with high priced land and shortage of labor and increased prices for everything he buys will be complicated and much more difficult than they have been in the past. Organizations such as will be brought by a county agent, will help the farmer more than anything else in sight at the present time.

CLUB WOMEN HEAR ABOUT WARTIME ACTIVITIES

Mrs. Frederick Dow at Woman's Club Luncheon Outlined Work of Council of Defense Plans—Mrs. Weir Extended Greetings and Pointed to Club Ideals.

The Woman's club program for the year began Saturday with the club luncheon given at Central Christian church under direction of the Domestic Science Round table. After a most excellent luncheon had been served, greetings from the president, Mrs. Miller Weir, were extended and afterward came an address by Mrs. Frederick A. Dow of Chicago, who explained something about woman's part in the work of the council of national defense. Mrs. Dow described the various lines of activity which are open to women under the general direction of the council and explained the general working plan. She made it clear that the women of the country are responding nobly to the appeal made.

Club Patriotism.
Mrs. Weir in her greetings touched upon the history of the Jacksonville Woman's club and made reference to the work of the coming year. In patriotic words the president referred to the activities of the women in "war work" and suggested that in the coming days the women of the club will no doubt have a prominent part. Mrs. Weir referred to the history making days which are now presented and the great opportunities that are at hand for women to give aid to the country in its time of greatest need. She voiced the sentiment of the officers and various boards of the club in the statement that they were of one mind and one thought in the desire to be of the greatest possible service. Her motto suggested for the club year was "Better, happier, healthier Jacksonville," and she made it clear that it should be the hope of the club officers and members to carry that same thought into club activities, no matter how widely extended the work of the club shall be, for the president no doubt realized that the work of the club this year will be wider in extent and of more importance than was ever true before.

Women Active in Many Lines.
Mrs. Dow in her introductory remarks referred to her previous visits to Jacksonville and of the earnest work which she knew that the Woman's club had been doing here. She voiced the idea that it was fortunate that thru woman's clubs of the state an organization was immediately available for certain lines of activity proposed by the Illinois division of the national council of defense. "I was in Chautauqua, N. Y.," Mrs. Dow said, "when this great war began and immediately the management arranged for a number of speakers to discuss war causes. It was freely predicted then that if the war continued thru a long period that the U. S. was almost certain to become involved."

"As our boys are leaving for the training camps and the front there are certain economic changes taking place. Visit the banks and factories in our cities and you will be surprised at the number of women employed there. Girls are running elevators in some buildings and you will find them taking the places of men in the railroad offices. So women are going to be called upon to perform many duties which in the past have devolved upon men. Aside from this work we must keep the home fires burning. As one result of the war we are apt to go back many years to the old neighborly feeling which used to have sway. Nurses will be less plentiful and so neighbors and friends will grow closer together and help each other in times of sickness and stress. This is just one of the ways in which war events will bring us closer together. So we have war duties not only in the trenches but at our own firesides.

No Duplication of Work.

"Early in the present year the president saw the need of the national council of defense and as soon as it was formed a woman's department was created, headed by Dr. Anna Shaw, and the executive committee included many women of the country most prominent in club and philanthropic work. There are various departments of work under the direction of the council of defense and it was the plan to make the organization so broad that there would need to be no other organization along any kindred line. Too often there is duplication of organization and to avoid this the various departments under the national council of defense were suggested. Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen is chairman of the Illinois division and is a woman thoroughly competent for the important work which it is directing. We are accustomed to think that there are a great many club women in Illinois, whereas the total number is 65,000, and there are in this state at least 3,000,000 women.

Women in Closer Relationship.

"Never before was there a possibility for women to meet on such common ground and to work for a cause in which there is such unanimity of interest. The result should be a closer relationship between the women of the state after the war days are past. The women are understanding that the work under the council of defense does not pertain altogether to our own army or to soldiers in foreign lands. There are many problems at home resulting from the war which must have the attention of the women. The needs of children must be given special attention. The health of the family and of the community is to a certain extent a question which women can settle. And then there is the enforcement of laws relating to child labor which must be kept in mind. One of the most important things in which women can help is in the conservation of food, and when you remember that there are 22,000,000 kitchens in this country, thru which the greater part of all the food consumed passes, you can readily understand that with proper care women can make immense savings. Mr. Hoover has realized this possibility and the women under the direction of the council of defense are united in carrying out some of the pertinent suggestions made by Mr. Hoover, whose experience abroad have so well fitted him for this work. "By co-operative effort women are reducing the amount of wheat used, sugar and fats are being saved and the sum total which will result from the conservation plans followed by the women will be a large factor in helping to feed the people of those countries where the food supply is short."

Mrs. Dow then went on to give some facts about the registration of women which is to begin in a country wide way during the month of November. She emphasized the importance of this work as thru registration the government will have a complete line of information as to the special duties that women can perform. After the war is over this registration list will be of great value, not only to the government but to the woman's organization, for there will be much after the war work in which women and their homes will have direct interest.

Mrs. Dow's address was heard with the greatest interest and at the conclusion an informal reception was held. The work of the Woman's club year has therefore started in a very auspicious and earnest way.

Governor's Proclamation.

In this connection the governor's proclamation about registration is given:

To the Women of Illinois:
The week beginning November 5, 1917, has been set aside for the registration of the women of Illinois. I urge upon all women to go to the place designated in their communities and to register their names. This applies as well to those who feel that they will not have time for other duties than they now discharge, as to those who have the time and are willing to help directly in the work which the war has brought. There are some who will be able and willing to take the places of men who have been called to the colors. There are others who will help in the work of caring for the families of those who have gone to the front. There are still others who will be glad through the Red Cross and other like organizations, to help to minister to the comfort and welfare of our soldiers in the field. There are a thousand activities for which women are peculiarly fitted, and which will help greatly to maintain our morale in the field, and what is equally important to maintain our morale at home. The registration cards which will be provided at the places of registration will enable each woman easily and fully to indicate where her chief usefulness to our country will be in this crisis.

A general registration of our women will bring cheer to our soldiers in the field, strength to our government, and will give notice to the world that the spiritual resources of Illinois are mobilized in the prosecution of this most righteous war.

Frank O. Lowden,
Governor.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Mackness and daughters, Misses Carrie and Lucille, have returned from an automobile trip to Chicago. They drove to Waukegan two weeks ago and soon afterward went to Chicago. Mr. Mackness returned home by train and then went to Chicago a few days since to accompany his family home. They made the journey home by easy stages as they spent one night with friends at Ottawa. They drove their Auburn car and altho the weather was a little cold returning, they found road conditions very satisfactory.

SOME SUGGESTIONS FOR SCHOOL LUNCHEES

Foods That are Both Nourishing and Palatable.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—Don't let the school lunch be merely something which will fill the lunch box in the morning and be only a sop to stay the kiddies' appetites from noon until night. Make it a real contribution to the food which the children require to meet the needs of their growing bodies and active brains—to satisfy their appetites and keep them in health.

These are the suggestions of home economics specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, now that millions of the future citizens of the country are again eating their midday meals from box-baskets, bag or confectionery shop instead of from the family table under watchful parental eyes.

The preparation of luncheons which will fill the needs of the child's body, does not mean the use of more expensive foods of the expenditure of greater effort, the specialists point out. In many cases both expense and work will be lessened. What is needed for the preparation of more satisfactory lunchees is merely that parents and "big sisters" or whoever fills the lunch box, shall inform themselves of certain facts in regard to the choice and combination of foods. The need in many cases is for neither more nor less food but for the representation of needed food groups. The necessary facts are set out plainly in Farmers' Bulletin, 712, "School Lunches," which may be had free so long as the supply lasts, by application to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

The following suggestions are among those made in the bulletin for well-balanced lunches to be carried to school.

- Basket Lunches
1. Sandwiches with sliced tender meat and filling; baked apple, cookies or a few lumps of sugar.
 2. Slices of meat loaf or bean loaf; bread and butter sandwiches; stewed fruit; small frosted cake.
 3. Crisp rolls, hollowed out and filled with chopped meat or fish, moistened and seasoned, or mixed with salad dressing; orange, apple, a mixture of sliced fruits, or berries; cake.
 4. Lettuce or celery sandwiches; cup custard; jelly sandwiches.
 5. Cottage cheese and chopped green-pepper sandwiches or a pot of cream cheese with bread-and-butter sandwiches; peanut sandwiches; fruit; cake.
 6. Hard boiled eggs; crisp baking-powder biscuits; celery or radishes; brown sugar or maple sugar sandwiches.
 7. Bottle of milk; thin corn bread and butter; dates; apple.
 8. Raisin or nut bread with butter; cheese; orange; maple sugar.
 9. Baked bean and lettuce sandwiches; apple sauce; sweet chocolate.

CABBAGE RECIPES BY UNCLE SAM

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—How to vary the preparations of cabbage from "plain boiled" is suggested by the United States Department of Agriculture in the following recipes:

Cabbage With Sour Sauce
After taking off the outside leaves, remove tough stalk from a small head of cabbage, cut in quarters; soak in cold water and cook in boiling salted water in an uncovered dish, adding 1/4 teaspoonful of soda. Cook slowly from 30 minutes to one hour, drain and serve with the following sour sauce:

Melt one tablespoonful each of butter or other fat, then add one tablespoonful of flour and 1/2 cup of milk. Stir over the fire until hot and add one teaspoonful of made English mustard and two tablespoonfuls of warm vinegar. Pour over hot cabbage. If preferred a plain cream sauce can be used.

Smothered Cabbage
Cut fine 1/2 head of cabbage. Melt two level tablespoonfuls of butter or other fat in a pan and stir in two level tablespoonfuls of flour. Add the cabbage, one cup of sweet milk, 1 teaspoonful salt and 1/4 teaspoonful pepper. Cover closely and simmer slowly 30 minutes.

Cabbage Pudding
Shred the head of cabbage closely and cook in salted water until tender. Drain and place in buttered dish in layers with sprinkling of grated cheese between. To two level tablespoonfuls of melted butter or other fat add 2 tablespoons flour, add a cup of milk, yolks of 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoonful of mustard. Stir over fire until it boils, then add beaten whites of eggs. Pour over cabbage, mix well and bake one hour.

Stuffed Cabbage
Remove coarse outer leaves and core. Parboil for 3 minutes. Fill core and inside of each leaf with finely chopped left-over meat (raw meat is best), or sausage. Tie securely in cheese cloth. Place in kettle with 2 or 3 carrots and onions. Cover with stock, and let simmer slowly two hours or until tender.

Cold Slaw
Slice a small cabbage very finely. Soak in cold water until crisp. Drain and dry between towels and mix with cream salad dressing. It will improve the dressing to add to it a very little curry powder.

Mrs. Emma Weber O'Neil of Chicago and Miss Bertha Mathews of Springfield will visit today at the home of Miss Emma Walter of East Court street. Mrs. O'Neil formerly resided in this city and has many friends here.

Good Clothes for Men Who Farm

Men on the farm have "the price" these days of a good many things; automobiles, farm equipment, fine stock; and they want, and there's no reason why they shouldn't have, good clothes. A farmer nowadays dresses as well as a banker or professional man; he ought to.

We Are Fortunate in Having Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

There's no argument necessary about the quality in selling these clothes; as soon as you see that name in the goods you know what you're getting.

There's no argument necessary about the price, either; we sell these clothes at prices they're really worth. All you have to do is to decide what you'd like to pay—$12.50, $15.00, $20.00, $25.00, $35.00, for a suit or overcoat; and then pick out the model and pattern you want.

You'll get value for your money; and you'll know it, and you don't know that with the same certainty about any other clothes made.

FARM NOTES

Cows and Roads.

(Country Gentleman.)

The automobile—the farmers' automobile—is given credit for being the great influence in improving country roads, and there can be no doubt that when a farmer wants to get up a little speed he studies road building. But the slow moving dairy cow has also had a lot to do with making the way to town easier.

A man who sells milk or cream goes to market often, usually every day, and when a bad road steals his time as often as that he gets busy with the drag, the grader, the stone crusher and the steam-roller.

The cow's labor requirement is big and costly and wasting it on the road cuts profits when a man and team are worth four to five dollars a day and gasoline costs twenty-five to thirty cents a gallon.

Mark Twain Was Wrong.

(Country Gentleman.)

Doubtless the habit of talking about the weather originated in the country, where sun, rain, hail, frost, wind, drought and flood are the cards that tell the farmers fortune, for at least a season. Mark Twain says "that people have been talking about the weather for years but nothing has ever been done about it." Weather still has a good deal to do with the crops but its influence is ebbing. Now we have drain-tiles that take away excessive rain-fall; irrigation systems—even overhead pipes—fight the drought; some crops are protected from sun and hail by being grown under cloth; oil pots drive away the frost. Let's keep on talking about the weather. Perhaps something more can be done about it.

DOCTOR SAYS VINOL IS THE BEST TONIC

Honest Opinion Doctor Gave His Patient

Bedford, Ohio.—"I was in a pitiful condition, weak, nervous and run down so I could not do any housework. I had doctored for years and tried everything under the sun. A friend told me about Vinol. I took it, and today I am as well and strong as any woman could wish to be, and it was Vinol that saved me."—Mrs. Frank A. Horkey, Ash St., Bedford, Ohio.

JACKSONVILLE PLAYS CARLINVILLE TO TIE

Carlville Gets the Jump and Scores in First Quarter—Jacksonville Ties Game in Third Quarter—Game was Rough One—Tholen Star for Jacksonville.

In a game marked by alternate brilliant and poor playing Jacksonville High and Carlville high played to a tie on Illinois field Saturday afternoon the final score being 7 to 7.

During the greater part of the game both teams confined their attack to line plunges and end runs. Neither could make much headway at this style of game and the ball repeatedly changed hands. Carlville showed a better defense than Jacksonville and only once did the local team have the punch to put the ball over, tho they worked it to within striking distance time after time.

But little forward passing was attempted. Both teams tried it several times and once or twice the pass was successful. There was a tendency to hold on the part of both teams and several penalties were inflicted. Jacksonville also received one penalty for roughing when a Jacksonville player fell into a Carlville man with his knees after the ball was down.

Some star playing was done by Tholen, Fierke and Reeve on the offense while on the defense Tholen was a bear. Time and again he stopped plays thru the line. When they played the other side of the line Tholen would often get across and break up the plays. For Carlville Sexton, Meiners and Pursey did good work on the offense while Phelps and Deiss starred on the defense.

Story of the Game.
Jacksonville kicked to Carlville and the ball was carried back fifteen yards. Carlville tried the line without success and kicked to Fierke who carried the ball back ten yards. Jacksonville made eight yards in three downs and was forced to kick to Carlville in the center of the field.

Carlville tried the line and Jacksonville took the ball on downs. The ball changed hands frequently on downs and Jacksonville tried a forward pass which was intercepted by Carlville on Jacksonville's 30 yard line. Carlville started a march for the goal but was held by Jacksonville on her 20 yard line. Jacksonville fumbled on the second play and Carlville recovered the ball. Carlville with a concerted attack pushed the ball over for a touchdown just before the quarter ended. Meiners making the score. Goal was kicked. Score Carlville 7, Jacksonville 0.

The ball was carried back and forth during the second quarter. When the half ended the ball was in the possession of Carlville in the center of the field.

At the beginning of the third quarter Carlville kicked to Fierke who carried the ball back 30 yards. Jacksonville put some speed into her play and attacked the right side of the Carlville line which proved a vulnerable point. The ball was worked down to her four yard line where Reeve went over for a touchdown. Goal was kicked making the score Carlville 14, Jacksonville 7.

During the remainder of the game each team tried every play that it had but was unable to get the ball over. The ball repeatedly changed over on downs or the teams were forced to kick.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

The Illinois College Chorus has begun work on Hayden's oratorio, "The Creation", and it is planned to begin rehearsals on the comic opera, still unchosen, in a few weeks.

The Conservatory Trio, Messrs. Kitch, Munger and Beebe, will give an ensemble recital early in November. They have been engaged to play in Springfield about the middle of the month.

Mr. Munger and Mr. Cochran are spending the week end in Chicago, where they expect to hear the Chicago Symphony Orchestra concert and a solo recital by Erem Zimbalist.

The Phi Omega Society, at a special business meeting Tuesday evening Oct. 2 elected the following officers for the year: Pres. Willard Wesner; Vice Pres. Ellen McCurley; Sec. Martha Priest; Treas. Ruth Irving; Pros. Att. Robert Shoemaker. The first regular meeting of the society will be Tuesday, Oct. 16, at 2:30.

Mrs. Wilson will sing a solo at Central Christian church Sunday morning, Oct. 14.
Miss Mabel Forrester now has charge of the Sunday school orchestra at the State Street church.

CIRCUIT COURT SUIT

A suit in assumpsit was filed yesterday in the circuit court for hearing at the November term. This is the proceedings of Joseph W. Whorton, administrator of the estate of M. L. Whorton, deceased, against J. E. Whorton as administrator of the estate of Louise Irene Nergenh, deceased. The action is based on a claim of indebtedness for $1,000. The complainant is represented by H. L. Winn of White Hall and Worthington, Reeve & Green of this city.

MAVERICKS

One sure thing
You can bet your rocks,
The winner will be Either the Giants or Sox.

There seems to be a difference of opinion in Jacksonville as to the proper manner in which to observe the Sabbath.

Whiskey was selling at $2.25 per quart in Arezville last week. We were unable to learn the prices asked by local dealers but it probably is considerably above that figure.

Five good chicken pickers are wanted in Monroe City, Mo., according to a Quincy paper. There are a lot of chicken pickers loafing around the street corners in Jacksonville whom we could get along without easily enough.

Editor McNabb of the Carrollton Gazette commenting upon the fact that Former Governor Yates and W. E. Mason are candidates for congressman-at-large, and Medill McCormick and B. M. Chipfield, candidates for J. Ham Lewis' seat in the United States senate, heads it, "A Dark Outlook". Evidently Mr. McNabb has been so dazzled by the hues of J. Ham's vests and neckties the past few years that almost anything has a dark hue to him now.

No poison, liquor or inflammable material will be allowed in the Christmas packages sent to France. That probably will bar Mr. Roosevelt's speech in which he expressed his opinion of Mr. LaFollette.

The Great American Game
Here are some of the things one encounters in a newspaper office. It was during the world's series games last week. Telephone rings:

Reporter takes down receiver and says, "Journal office".
Woman on wire—"What is the score?"

Reporter—"Two to two in fourth inning".

Voice—"In whose favor?" Reporter faints.

British headquarters reported last week that the British and Germans were fighting about a large brewery in the outskirts of Poelcappelle. It is safe to bet that both parties were careful not to destroy any of the product.

It doesn't always pay for a newspaper reporter to put all that he knows in the paper. Robert E. Hollway, a reporter for the St. Louis Republic, is in jail at Jefferson City, Mo., for refusing to tell where he got information revealing grand jury secrets. Hollway has been sending interesting stories to his paper from the jail but the court stopped that by ordering his typewriter taken from him.

Upon arriving at home she found her father, who has been in failing health for some time, not so well consequently she has decided to remain in Jacksonville for a time.

Bryan, who will deliver an address to the students and friends in the afternoon in Music Hall. Mr. Bryan is a close personal friend of President Harker, and has always been interested in the College. MULFORD CAPTURES GRAND PRIX RACES

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Ralph Mulford captured first honors in the Grand Prix race meet at the Speedway today by winning the first fifty mile event, finishing second in the other and third in the twenty mile dash. The spectators were given a thrill in the final fifty mile event when cars driven by Tom Milton and Tom Alley collided while speeding at the rate of more than 100 miles an hour. The accident occurred while they were rounding a corner. Neither was hurt, except for a few minor bruises.

The big event of the day, scheduled for 100 miles was cut to fifty because of the slim attendance. Probably 500 persons were in the grandstand and not more than 5,000 in the park. The wintry weather and the world's series game between New York and Chicago were responsible for the small crowd.

Coming from behind in the final lap Mulford shot into the lead, and won the first fifty mile race in a thrilling finish with Pete Henderson and Tom Alley. The time was 28:17.17. Mulford averaged 106 miles an hour. Henderson took the second fifty mile spin in 28:39:05 with Mulford second. They were the only entrants to finish.

The first event at twenty miles went to Tom Alley in 11:22:10. Gaston Chevrolet finished second and Mulford third. Henderson averaged 105.8 miles an hour.

MICHIGAN WINS.

Ann Arbor, Oct. 13.—Michigan's eleven overwhelmed the lighter Mount Union team here today 69 to 9. Michigan's defense for Mount Union's forward pass attack was perfect.

CHICAGO, 48; VANDERBILT, 0.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—The University of Chicago easily defeated Vanderbilt University at football today 48 to 0. Coach Stagg's team of green men used nothing but straight football, a line shift play proving the undoing of Vanderbilt. In only one period, the third, did Vanderbilt show their offensive strength.

A Reminiscence of Days Gone By—1868-1869

Municipal

(Compiled by Capt. F. C. Taylor)

In the year 1868 the municipal government of Jacksonville was in the hands of the following well known citizens: Wm. P. Barr, mayor; James J. Rowen, city clerk; Geo. W. Smith, city marshal; Mathew Stacy, treasurer; Wm. G. Gallaher, city attorney; Henry Rice, street commissioner. The board of aldermen was composed of the following from the four wards: James Redman, 1st; Edward Lambert, 2nd; David M. Simmons, 3rd, and William Branson, 4th. The office of the mayor and city clerk was on the second floor of the building now occupied by the Knoles clothing store on the north side of the square.

Lafayette Carson was chief of the department and M. H. Carroll his assistant. There were two fire companies, Union No. 1, of which James M. Mitchell was president, and James Keyes was foreman, and Franklin No. 2 with Benjamin H. Myers and John Evans holding similar offices. Headquarters for the fire department was on East Court street in the building now occupied by a laundry company. These fire engines were both hauled and worked by hand power.

Illinois College

The faculty of this notable institution of learning was composed of Rev. Julian M. Sturtevant, D. D., president, professor of moral philosophy; Samuel Adams, A. M., M. D., professor of chemistry and natural philosophy; Rev. Wm. D. Sanders, D. D., professor of rhetoric and elocution; Rufus C. Crampton, A. M., professor of mathematics and astronomy; Edward A. Tanner, A. M., professor of the Latin language and literature; Collins, professor of the Greek language and literature.

Methodist Female College

This institution of learning now known as the Illinois Woman's College, one of the oldest of its class in the west, was erected in 1847 and since that time has expanded both in dimension and usefulness. In the year 1868 the Rev. Wm. H. DeMotte was the principal.

The Presbyterian Academy

This institution of learning was organized in the year 1830 and consequently was one of the oldest of its kind west of the mountains. During its existence it enjoyed a large measure of public favor. Gilbert Thayer, A. M., was the principal in 1868-9.

Young Ladies' Athenaeum

This ladies' school was founded in the year 1864, and occupied a building on the west side of South Sandy street, and immediately south of the southwest corner of the public square. The school began its first year with an attendance of 67 which number increased as years passed until 1868 when the attendance was more than 160.

Rev. W. D. Sanders, D. D., was the superintendent and also professor of rhetoric, elocution and English literature; Rev. N. N. Wood, D. D., was professor of intellectual philosophy and logic; Prof. William Benziger was professor of modern languages and drawing; Miss Adelaide Morrison was general assistant; Miss Alice Rhoads had charge of the classes in botany, while Miss Wilhelmia E. Benziger was instructor in vocal music, piano, guitar and organ; Miss Emma Watkins was in charge of instruction in piano; while Miss Jennie Mae Tarbell held a similar position to that held by Miss Benziger, and Mrs. Agnes J. Griffith was principal of the primary department and was instructor in Spencerian writing.

State School for Deaf

This, the oldest of the noble charities which grace our state government, was incorporated by an act of the General Assembly, approved Feb. 23, 1839, and though it had a struggle for existence for various reasons in the beginning, it has under the generous appropriations of the legislature, and the economic and able management of Dr. Philip G. Gillett, D. D., developed into one of the most complete and efficient institutions of its kind in this or any other country. At this time Dr. P. G. Gillett is superintendent and Frank Hine steward and clerk.

Jacksonville State Hospital
This institution, one of the grand charities of the state, was founded in the year 1847, largely through the self-denying and philanthropic efforts of Miss Dorothy L. Dix by whom the sufferings and necessities of the insane were presented to the legislature, and to the people of the state in a spirit of Christian charity to the unfortunate. Dr. Andrew McFarland is now and has been for some years the superintendent.

State School for Blind
The Illinois institution for the education of the blind was established by act of the legislature and approved by the governor of the state in 1849. Dr. Joshua Rhoads was appointed superintendent of the institution in 1850 and ably assisted by the board of trustees which was composed of five members, viz.: Mathew Stacy, president; E. B. Hawley, W. A. Grimshaw, Rev. Hiram Buck and Michael Shaeffer, the school has steadily grown in efficiency and the results are obvious.

Institution for Feeble-minded

The necessity for an asylum for feeble-minded children residing in the state was very forcibly brought to the attention of Dr. Gillett, superintendent of the School for the Deaf by the increasing number of applications for admission of this class of unfortunates to the institution. Finding it impracticable to care for these children, quite a number of whom had been brought to the institution, Dr. Gillett appealed to the legislature for an appropriation sufficient to erect buildings for temporary use so that it might be possible to segregate the feeble-minded from the pupils of the school. The legislative body realizing the utility of the plan suggested made the appropriation and under the direction of Dr. Gillett several frame buildings were erected on the grounds of Judge E. P. Kirby immediately north of and adjacent to the northwest part of what is now Duncan Park. Here the new school was installed and was in a short time showing good results.

Finding that the duties pertaining to the managing of the two institutions was becoming onerous, owing to the increasing attendance in the newly installed school, Dr. Gillett suggested to the proper authorities the appointment of a superintendent who would prove capable for the position. Charles T. Wilbur, M. D., of Syracuse, N. Y., who was or had been connected with a similar school in that eastern city, and the gentleman was appointed and accepted the position. The officers appointed by the board of directors are Col. John R. Woods, of Winchester, president; Dr. Philip G. Gillett, secretary; Augustus E. Ayers, treasurer. Those in direct charge of the institution are C. T. Wilbur, M. D., superintendent; Mrs. L. P. Wilbur, matron; Miss Mary C. Woods and Miss Mary A. Brown, teachers; S. M. Leckrone, instructor in gymnastics.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS
MAKE SHARP BREAKS
Values Offset Only to a Moderate Degree by Week End Covering on Part of Shorts.
Chicago, Oct. 13.—Sharp new breaks in grain and provision values today were offset only to a moderate degree by week end covering on the part of shorts. Ideal weather for curing the corn crop did much to put the bulls at a disadvantage. Corn closed firm, but 1/4c to 1/2c net lower, with December at $1.12 1/2 to $1.13 and May at $1.09 1/2 to $1.09 3/4. Oats finished a shade off to 1/4c up. The outcome in provisions ranged from unchanged figures to a setback of $1.45. Freezing temperatures and clear skies furnished just the conditions to safeguard huge quantities of corn that warm wet weather might have rendered unfit for use.
German political advances suggested an improved chance of peace tended further to encourage selling, and so too did certainty that present maximum quotations would not be altered during 1917. In addition it was said ofers of new corn from the south were more plentiful and cheap.
Big export sales of oats had a steadying influence on the oats market. Fresh liquidation on the part of holders masked provisions as much as $2.00 in the case of January pork, with lard and ribs carried down almost as far. Packers buying at the bottom levels brought about a late rally.

SOLDIERS AT CAMP TAYLOR HAVE BOND CHANCE

Louisville Banks Have Arranged Liberty Bond Purchases on Installment Plan—Life at Camp Not Without Funny Happenings.

Louisville, Ky. Oct. 12.—Arrangements have been made by Louisville banks whereby it will be possible for the men of the National Army from Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky in training here at Camp Zachary Taylor, to send their dollars "over the top" long before they themselves will reach the battlefields of France. The banks have joined in extending to the soldiers the privilege of subscribing for bonds on a partial payment basis that will make it easy for many to subscribe who otherwise would find it difficult or impossible.

The bonds will be subscribed for by the bank and held for the soldier until paid for, at the rate of $5 monthly on each $50 subscribed. These payments will be covered by an allotment from his pay in favor of the bank, which the soldier will make at the time he makes his subscription. The work of solicitation will be directed by commissioned officers, but it will actually be in the hands of the men themselves. Each company will have its own Liberty Loan campaign committee drawn from among its enlisted personnel and as fast as a subscriber is caught he will automatically be added to this staff.

Applications in Duplicate — The applications for bonds will be taken in duplicate by the company commander, and the original after being countersigned will go to the regimental adjutant and from him to division headquarters. From there it will find its way to the Louisville Clearing House.

The Louisville Liberty Loan Legion, an organization of business men in charge of the Liberty Loan campaign in Louisville will assist in acquainting the men with the importance of the loan and what it means in the successful conduct of the war.

To aid the selling campaign, meetings will be held in all the Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus buildings at which the men will be addressed by both officers and civilians. In addition a big field day, featured by sports of all sorts, will be held Oct. 24, and at night the men will be addressed by a number of speakers, among whom will be Gov. A. O. Stanley if it is possible for him to be present.

One on the Lieutenant — There is a young Lieutenant at Camp Zachary Taylor here who has come to the point where he hates to see his fellow officers smile for many of their smiles have been directed in his direction recently. If one of them should in passing say something about the "corporal of the guard" it is no longer funny. The smiles of his brother officers have been caused by an accident which happened to him recently, in which a raw recruit of the Army, put on post for the first time, figured with perfect innocence.

The Lieutenant was officer of the day, and had posted the "rookie" at his first post. Late at night, making his rounds, the Lieutenant approached the post.

"Halt, who goes there?" came an order in a determined tone of voice. "Officer of the guard" came the reply.

Then for a moment both were silent. The sentry it was plain to see had forgotten what next to do.

"Well, young man, must I stand here all night? Use a little common sense. If I look all right order me to advance and be recognized. If I don't, call the corpora! of the guard."

A loudly bawled, "Corporal of the guard, Post No. 4" brought that individual running. The incident seemed funny at first, but another officer had heard it, and now it isn't.

Insulation

Every part of your electrical system must be made leak proof by insulation.

Inside your battery is the most important insulation of all—that which separates the positive from the negative plates, for this prevents the battery from "short circuiting," and thus putting the whole system out of commission.

In the Still Better Willard, the insulation is made of durable, acid-resisting rubber.

Thus Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation means a better insulated battery, a more durable, more efficient battery.

RUSSIAN NAMES

Many have been amazed at the peculiar names of Russian people. My friend, Morris Winer, a Russian Jew, has explained the matter, so that I now see they have some system in it, which is more than can be said of other nations, so far as I know. I now give a part of this explanation:

Suppose a Mr. Kornel was born in St. Petersburg, his name would be Kornel; if born in Warsaw City, or state his name would be Kornelofsky; if born in Siberia, his name would be Kornelov; if born in Caracas, his name would be Kornelle; if born in the Ural, his name would be Kornelotich; if from Moscow, his name would be Kornelk; if from Poland, his name would be Kornelofski; if born in Odessa, his name would be Kornelan.

The above system shows an attempt to make the names significant and useful and helps us to see the philosophy or wisdom in names that have appeared to be ridiculous, but really are more sensible than other nations can show.

Respectfully,
W. W. Crane.

B. F. Wilkinson of Murrayville was among the city callers yesterday.

BANKERS EARNST IN SUPPORT OF LIBERTY LOAN

E. E. Crabtree Tells of Spirit Manifest When Recent Conference was Held—Allotment for Each County Already Practically Pledged.

The greatest enthusiasm marked the meeting of bankers held in St. Louis Friday, representing forty four counties in Illinois, for discussion of Liberty Loan affairs, according to statement made yesterday by Edgar E. Crabtree, chairman of the executive committee for the part of Illinois included in this federal reserve district. Parts of several states are included in this federal reserve district and different conference dates for county chairmen have been selected, the Illinois meeting being fixed for Friday. There are forty four counties in this part of the district and all but one county were represented at the conference.

Talking about this meeting yesterday Mr. Crabtree said: "There was the most marked enthusiasm and loyalty at this conference and each banker present practically pledged the best allotment for his county. There are 505 banks in the Illinois part of the district and the Liberty loan organization reaches out from the treasury department at Washington and includes all the banks of the country. So these 505 banks really form a part of a vast organization. The work is really just being started and it will not be many days until all these workers get into the full swing of the movement."

Allotments Made Scientifically.
"In reality we might say that the Liberty loan bonds are really sold for the bankers of the country are practically pledged to the U. S. to take care of the allotment for their own counties and communities. This allotment of bonds has been worked out on a scientific basis and to each bank has been assigned a sum total of bonds equal to 12 percent of its resources. In some localities the banks will underwrite these bonds and then place them with their customers from time to time and in other localities immediate effort will be made to have the bonds purchased by the people."

"The bankers realize that the government's idea is well founded, that the larger the distribution of the bonds among the people the more there will be the understanding of war conditions. The purchaser of bonds somehow come into a closer relationship with the government than do those who do not lend their financial assistance. Of course I do not mean that persons who do not purchase bonds are necessarily not interested, for there are more ways than one of assisting the government at this time, but there is no denying that if the bond purchasers are of vast number the understanding of the war situation will be more widespread."

Bonds Certainly Placed.
"Certainly any banker or any man not engaged in this business, who has been at the headquarters of the Liberty bond committee in St. Louis or has attended any of the conferences of the bankers from the several states, has a keen appreciation of the deep-seated enthusiasm and loyal interest which these bankers are displaying. They are all ready to do their part and also the campaign for the sale of the bonds is so far from competition, it can be stated with the greatest confidence now that these bonds will be placed and that the news will be sent abroad to Germany and to our allies that the people of the U. S. have responded loyally and patriotically to the appeal. Certainly if the patriotism of America is measured by the interest in the Liberty loan, that patriotism is broad enough and deep enough to give the Kaiser the greatest concern."

DEATHS

Atherton.

Albert H. Atherton, well known merchant of the city, died at Our Savior's hospital at noon Saturday after a brief illness. Mr. Atherton submitted to an operation several years ago and since that time had had more or less intestinal trouble. Thursday he was taken ill and was removed to Our Savior's hospital where it was found he was suffering from strangulation of the bowel. An operation was performed which failed to give relief.

Albert H. Atherton was the son of Dr. Albert and Sarah Ann Hayes Atherton and was born at Pleasant Plains, December 17, 1861. He was united in marriage to Miss Molly Weaver in Springfield twenty-seven years ago. He is survived by his widow and two sons, Roy and Albert, both of Walnut, Ill. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. R. H. Zane and Miss Mabel Atherton, and three brothers, Augustus H., Andrew G. and W. E. Atherton, all of Pleasant Plains.

Sixteen years ago the deceased came to Jacksonville and engaged in business. He was accounted successful and for the past four years he has conducted a book and stationery store on the east side of the square. Mr. Atherton was a member of Grace M. E. church and was a man whose everyday life was such as to command the respect of all with whom he came in contact. The remains were removed to the undertaking parlors of W. W. Gillham and prepared for burial. Funeral services will be held from the residence, 850 East College avenue Monday morning at 10 o'clock with burial at Pleasant Plains.

INTEREST INCREASES IN REVIVAL SERVICES

Evangelist Hanley Took the 23rd Psalm as Sermon Theme—Announcements for Today's Services.

The Hanley-Fisher meeting Saturday evening was one of great interest and inspiration. During the preliminary song service a number of the older favorite hymns were sung. "Blessed Assurance," "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and "When the Roll is Called up Yonder." A number which was especially appreciated was a duet sung by Mr. Fisher and Earl Voyles, the pianist, "It Pays to Serve Jesus." A short testimonial meeting was then held, in which a great many participated.

In making announcement of the various services the evangelist called special attention to the service for church members this afternoon and the evening service at 7:30 sharp. At this service he will talk on the theme, "Christ Before Pilate." It was also announced that there will be three afternoon services during this week, on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, detailed announcement to be made later. Dr. Hanley emphasized again the importance of the Tuesday evening patriotic meeting. The boy scouts have volunteered to escort the grand army from the hall to the church, and it is hoped that the attendance of citizens generally will be large.

23rd Psalm Explained.
After the singing of "Stepping in the Light" and a short prayer by Rev. R. B. Wilson, Dr. Hanley announced the 23rd Psalm as his theme for the evening. He then read the Psalm and asked the audience to repeat it after him. The speaker prefaced his remarks with this incident: "This Psalm had just been the 23rd Psalm to me for many years until one Sabbath morning at Pekin, Ill., at a 9 o'clock prayer meeting at which 800 people were present, Mr. Bilhorn read the Psalm and for the first time I discovered its true meaning."

Dr. Hanley then re-read the Psalm illustrating the personal element, and pointing out the four things emphasized in it: first, possession; second, provision; third, protection and fourth, paradise. He stated his firm belief in the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, "the two greatest truths in the world." He said that this Psalm brings before us a different conception of God, he is no longer merely a judge, but a sympathetic friend. "With sympathy there must come gratitude. God has sympathy for us and we must show gratitude to Him for all the evidences of His love for us."

Dr. Hanley paid a splendid tribute to Mr. Bilhorn, who he said has worn out his voice for God—has sung on the streets in blizzards, in cells and mines and on the mountains.

Must Let God Have Sway.
The last point made was that it is the duty of all to learn to trust God unreservedly. The speaker said he had a hard time learning to let the Lord run his business, but said he had found that to trust God once is to follow Him, no matter where He leads. The sermon was closed by the quoting of that beautiful poem, "Only Remembered by What We Have Done." The service ended with an earnest appeal to God for the success of the campaign now being waged in Jacksonville.

SARAH BERNHARDT COMING FRIDAY.

Sarah Bernhardt, who comes to the Grand Friday, Oct. 19, for a night performance, is more than a woman of talent. She is more than a genius; she is a world famed personality. In foreign lands she has won plaudits for the masterpieces of French literature, and has won affection for the gentle French speech.

She begins her tenth triumphal tour of America—a veritable ambassador of French letters. She has the prestige of exoticism, which has brought to all nations—to all peoples—the greatest French names, ancient and modern. Her life work has indeed been the incarnation of French art in all its forms. Has any other French woman, or French man, done as much, in this way, for France as Sarah Bernhardt? It is well indeed that France hails her as the great French patriot, whose fame is immortal as artist and woman.

Mme. Bernhardt will be seen here as Portia in the stirring trial scene of "The Merchant of Venice," and as Marguerite Gauthier in the touching death scene of "Camille."

Mme. Bernhardt will be supported by her company from her own theatre in Paris, including Jean Angelo, her leading man. At each performance the following artists will appear: Jean Cooper (Contralto); Annie Louise David (Harist); Jean Duval & Co. "Gems of Art"; Albert Donnelly (Shadows); Florence Hardeman (Violiniste); Rome Fen-ton (Tenor).

Everything for your Hallowe'en party. All the newest favors and novelties. Order them now while the assortment is unbroken.

SEEK TO SET ASIDE DEED BY COURT ACTION

Conservator of Emanuel Ward Alleges That Mr. and Mrs. August Goveia Obtained Title to His Property By Fraud.

A suit to set aside a deed was filed Saturday by W. T. Wilson in the circuit court and hearing will be had at the November term. John D. Ornellas as conservator of Emanuel Ward has brought the action against Mr. and Mrs. August Goveia. The bill alleges that early in the present year the defendant persuaded Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Ward to deliver them a deed to lot 18 in Lambert's north addition to Jacksonville which is the Ward home.

It is claimed that Mr. and Mrs. Goveia persuaded Mr. Ward and his wife to make the transfer for a consideration of $1, by agreeing that they would care for them in their old age. Further it is charged that when Mr. and Mrs. Ward became ill a few months later that Mr. and Mrs. Goveia did not give them the promised care, and that neighbors were of necessity called to care for the old couple. It is charged also that when the transfer was made that Mr. Goveia and his wife urged upon Mr. and Mrs. Ward not to tell their son, resident in Colorado for his health, about the transfer. So it is now alleged that the deed was made after advantage had been taken of the old people, and furthermore that even the care promised was not given and on these grounds the court is asked to set aside the deed given.

NEW ELEVATOR COMPANY AT CLEMENTS STATION

For some time past Lewis & Bokes have operated an elevator at Clements station on the Murrayville cut off but the farmers in that vicinity concluded they would like to try their hands at the business so a stock company with a capital of $7,000 was formed, the shares being $100 each and seventy men each took a share and then they met and chose nine directors, as follows:

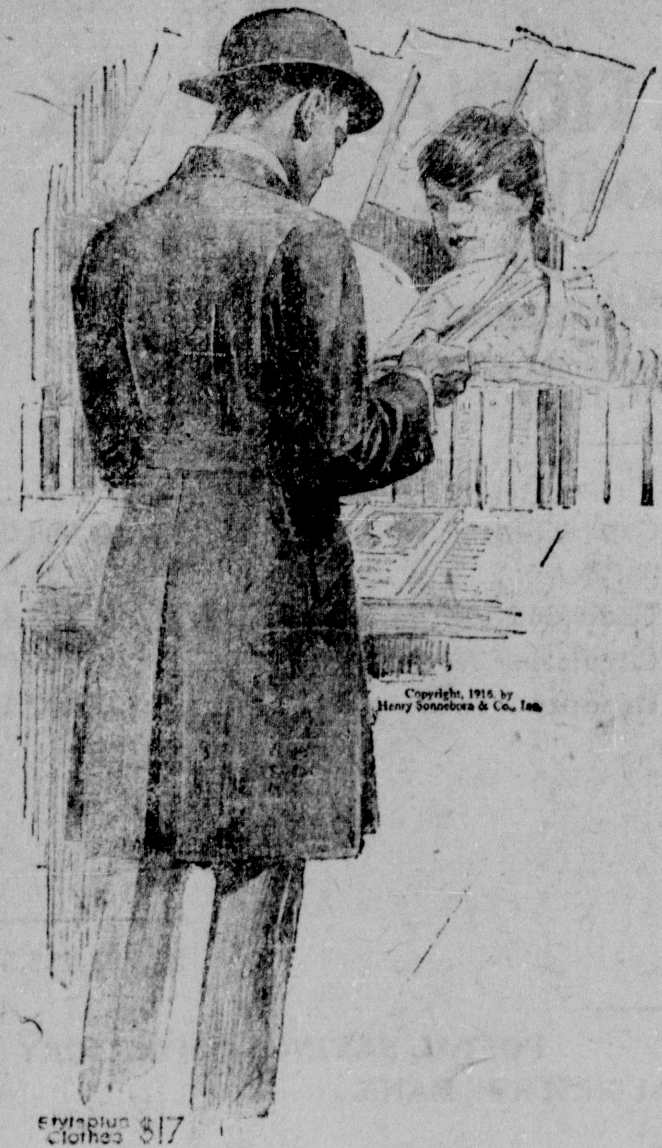

For three years, James Rawlings, J. R. Wilson and Thomas Henry; for two years, Bert Rawlings, George Megginson and Walter Newby; for one year, Wm. Mortimer, John Flynn and Wm. Craig.

The following officers were then elected:

President—Wm. Mortimer.
Vice president—J. R. Wilson.
Secretary and treasurer—B. F. Rawlings.

Manager—John Shirley.
The station is at a good point for business and the company starts out with fine prospects for a profitable career.
